JANE SIMON

Jane Simon has been chosen February's Leisure Worldeer of the Month as much for her warm, friendly personality as for her accomplishments since retiring to Leisure World.

Before coming here she had a long, fruitful career of 39 years as a Teacher and Principal in California schools. Her work in education started at age 22 when she was Principal of a country school in South Whittier. The school boasted two teachers and an oil well in the back yard. She recalls her years of teaching 5th and 6th grades as the most gratifying of her life when a special bond was created with thousands of young people whose characters she helped to form.

After coming to Leisure World in 1973, Mrs. Simon continued her search for fulfillment through developing her creativity in sculpture, wood carving and ceramics. Her interests include the study of music, memory training, water exercise, swimming and acting as Hostess for Leisure World's Institute For Living.

The Ode nearby was written with Jane Simon in mind.
