

Jan 5, 1989

Lions looks at state history

Ruth Grossfeld will be the guest speaker at the Lion's Club meeting Monday, Jan. 9 at 9 a.m. She will talk about early California history and the Hispanic influence in present day California.

Grossfeld was born in Chicago but came to California with her parents in 1923. She attended USC where she was a business administration major. For 35 years she had her own public accounting firm in the Chicago area.

Since moving to Leisure World in 1976, she and her husband Edward have been active volunteers.

Grossfeld was instrumental in starting the Saddleback Valley YMCA Adult Day Care Center and received a Carnation award in 1985. She is also a former president of the Community Association and a leader in the Foreign Policy Association.