

Great World

By Ross M. Cortese

We want to take time out from our commentaries on the gerontology programs to continue our practice of congratulating the Leisure Worlder of the month.

For September, that honoree, selected by the Leisure World Historical Society in the project sponsored by Home Federal Savings, is Howard E. Moore who has been a member of our community since 1968.

Moore has served on the United Mutual nominating committee, Saddleback Hospital's scholarship committee and is active in the United Methodist Church and in Masonry.

He is a good example of what we have been writing about in recent weeks in that his life has kept growing and enriching itself because of his activities and determination to keep up with the times and to look to the future.

He has shared his interest in photography by providing slide and tape recording presentations to club groups throughout Orange County, and his topics include a wide variety of subjects. It is proof enough that Howard Moore is an up to date, active member of our community and deserving of his high honor. We are delighted to have the opportunity to add our congratulations.

Moore's professional career was spent with a pneumatic tool company in his native Pennsylvania where he worked his way up the ladder from service engineer to plant manager in a 42-year span.

Long, hard work was a trademark for Moore along with service to community activities such as the Salvation Army, YMCA, United Fund, library and school district not to mention the boy scouts and American Legion.

It was that kind of background that Moore brought to Leisure World, and it was that dedication and expertise that provided him the impetus to give similar volunteer work to Leisure World.

Some of the more creative and productive people are those who learn from history, and Howard Moore has been an avid history buff most of his life.

While he looks to the past and to the future, we of Leisure World are enjoying a richer present because of his contributions.

Again our congratulations and thanks.
