

Hospital board election

Wineman named president

Glenn M. Wineman

Glenn M. Wineman, a charter member of the board of directors of Saddleback Community Hospital, was elected president of the 155-bed non-profit facility at the annual meeting last week.

He succeeds John A. Sickenberger who will remain as chairman of the board of directors.

The latest in a lengthy list of accolades for service to numerous community organizations, the presidency of the 15-man hospital board will represent a continuation of personal dedication to civic affairs for Wineman.

Retired after 38 years as a Burroughs Corp. executive, Wineman has been a leader, director or officer of such groups as Mutual 18; First Mutual, United Mutual, Saddleback Area Coordinating Council as well as the Masonic Lodge, Laguna Hills Hi-12 Club and the Former Rotarians.

Other officers elected to serve during the forthcoming year include Nina Craft Johnson, vice president; Jeff Lodder, vice president; Dorothy Colver, secretary; and William Crawford, treasurer.
